Every year, ACRL celebrates the opportunity to honor the outstanding achievements of academic and research librarians across North America. From a business college using monsters in the library to teach information literacy, to an assistant curator’s digital project of oral histories and archival material highlighting the contributions of Latinas and their families and organizations, to a college library’s new model of instruction using Research Parties and TED Talk as Research Inspiration, the innovations of our community have continued to demonstrate the notable impact librarianship has in the academic landscape.

Made possible by generous corporate support, the annual presentation of our prestigious awards, grants, and fellowships to these and other deserving individuals and institutions enables ACRL to honor the very best in academic librarianship. This year, ACRL once again seeks to celebrate and recognize the accomplishments of our peers.

ACRL members are an integral part of our successful awards program. Please consider acknowledging those who have influenced your thinking, your practice, and your growth as an academic or research librarian. We urge you to nominate colleagues whose work you admire, and whose contributions merit recognition by the profession. Your nominations will ensure that the pool of candidates for each award remains both competitive and distinguished.

Complete information about the ACRL awards program, including nomination procedures, past winners, criteria and contacts, is available in the Awards and Scholarships section of the ACRL website at www.acrl.org. December 1, 2017, is the deadline for most of the awards to be presented in 2018. A brief description of each award is listed below.

Achievement and distinguished service awards

- Excellence in Academic Libraries Award (sponsored by GOBI Library Solutions from EBSCO): $3,000 for each type of library award (college, community college, and university). Recognizes academic libraries that are outstanding in furthering the educational missions of their institutions.
- Academic/Research Librarian of the Year Award (sponsored by GOBI Library Solutions from EBSCO): $5,000 award. Recognizes an outstanding member of the academic or research library profession.
- Hugh C. Atkinson Memorial Award (sponsored by ACRL, Association for Library Collections and Technical Services, Library Leadership and Management Association, Library and Information Technology Association): cash award. Recognizes outstanding achievements (including risk-taking) in the areas of library automation, management, or development and research.
• Politics, Policy, and International Relations Section Marta Lange/SAGE-CQ Press Award (sponsored by SAGE-CQ Press): $1,000 award. Recognizes a librarian who has made distinguished contributions to bibliography and information service in law or political science.

• Miriam Dudley Instruction Librarian Award (sponsored by the ACRL Instruction Section): $1,000 award. Recognizes an individual librarian for significant contributions to the advancement of instruction in a college or research library environment.

• Instruction Section Innovation Award (sponsored by EBSCO Information Services): $3,000 award. Honors librarians who have implemented innovative approaches to information literacy at their respective institutions or in their communities.

• College Libraries Section Innovation in College Librarianship Award (sponsor pending): $1,000 award. Honors librarians who demonstrate a capacity for innovation in working with or serving undergraduates or instructors in the areas of programs, services, and operations; or creating innovations for library colleagues who facilitate their ability to better serve the library’s community.

• Community College Learning Resources Leadership/Library Achievement Awards (sponsored by EBSCO Information Services): $750 for each of two awards recognizing outstanding achievement in library programs or leadership.

• Routledge Distance Learning Librarianship Conference Sponsorship Award (sponsored by Routledge/Taylor & Francis Group): $1,200 conference sponsorship award to honor any individual ACRL member working in the field of, or contributing to the success of, distance learning librarianship or related library service in higher education.

• Distinguished Education and Behavioral Sciences Librarian Award: Honors outstanding contributions to Education and Behavioral Sciences librarianship through accomplishments and service to the profession.

• Women and Gender Studies Section Award for Career Achievement: Recognizes career achievement in Women and Gender Studies librarianship.

• Women and Gender Studies Section Award for Significant Achievement:
Honors a distinguished academic librarian who has made outstanding contributions to Women and Gender Studies through accomplishments and service to the profession.

- University Libraries Section Outstanding Professional Development Award (sponsored by Library Juice Academy): $1,000 award. Recognizes librarians, archivists, or curators whose contributions to providing professional development opportunities for librarians have been especially noteworthy or influential.

Research awards and grants

- ESS De Gruyter European Librarianship Study Grant (sponsored by the Walter de Gruyter Foundation for Scholarship and Research): €2,500 grant. Supports research in European studies with an emphasis on librarianship, the book trade, resource documentation, and similar information-science related topics.

Publications

- Ilene F. Rockman Instruction Publication of the Year Award (sponsored by Emerald Publishing): $3,000 award. Recognizes an outstanding publication related to instruction in a library environment published in the last two years.

- Science and Technology Section Oberly Award for Bibliography in the Agricultural or Natural Sciences: This biennial award is given in odd-numbered years for the best English-language bibliography in the field of agriculture or a related science.

If you would like more information about the ACRL 2018 Awards Program, visit the Awards and Scholarships section of our website at www.acrl.org or contact ACRL Program Officer Chase Ollis at collis@ala.org.

We welcome your nominations and look forward to celebrating achievements in academic librarianship in 2018.

---

Liberating Structures often build time and structure for quiet, individual reflection, a commodity in short supply in meetings. The library, as a service organization, needs tools to tap the collective intelligence of staff to find local solutions to challenges and opportunities. Try a Liberating Structure at your next meeting or event, my experience tells me that you will be very pleased at how engaged the attendees are, and how much more productive your meeting will be.

Notes
