How to report stolen manuscripts
The Professional Autograph Dealers Association (PADA) has established a system for reporting stolen or missing manuscripts to its membership, thus enabling libraries and archives to alert autograph dealers to possibly illegal transactions. The system has two parts: an alert network for reporting newly discovered losses and a database to register missing manuscript materials. To report a newly discovered loss, call (888) 338-4338 toll-free and PADA will immediately notify its membership by fax or phone. Provide as much information as possible in the report: a detailed description of the manuscript stolen; the date and circumstances of the loss; the names, addresses, and phone numbers of the contact person at the institution; and any law enforcement officers involved. To register an older loss in the database, mail a detailed description of the manuscript, with any of the information listed above, to Catherine Barnes, head of PADA's Security Committee, P.O. Box 30117, Philadelphia, PA 19103. Please do not use the toll-free number to report older losses. For the present, the information collected will be available only to PADA members, but in the future it may be offered to nonmembers on a subscription basis. This service is offered free-of-charge to reporting institutions.

Cornell publishes digital imaging guide
The Department of Preservation and Conservation at Cornell University Library has published Digital Imaging for Libraries and Archives by Anne R. Kenney and Stephen Chapman. The 200-page looseleaf guide is an expanded version of the training manual used during Cornell's weeklong digital imaging workshops. It covers the issues involved in planning a digital imaging project, including key concepts and terms, hardware, software, creation of databases and indexes, conversion from photographs and film, long-term access, management of the technical infrastructure to support an imaging project, outsourcing, and continuing education. It also has two "formula cards" for calculation of project conversion, storage, and access requirements.

The guide is $75.00, plus $5.00 s/h. Order from Mary Arsenault, 214 Olin Library, Cornell University, Ithaca, NY 14853; e-mail: mla4@cornell.edu. Make checks payable to "Department of Preservation, Cornell University." Prepayment is required.

CCAHA publishes leaflet about mold
The Conservation Center for Art and Historic Artifacts (CCAHA) has updated the first leaflet in its technical series, Managing a Mold Invasion: Guidelines for Disaster Response. It offers practical advice for coping with mold on library and archival materials, health concerns, first response procedures, inactivation procedures, fungicides and fungistats, cleaning and disinfecting, and planning for prevention. It also provides a section of general references and recovery services. Copies may be purchased for $3.50 from CCAHA, 264 South 23rd St., Philadelphia, PA 19103; phone: (215) 545-0613; fax: (215) 735-9313. Prepayment is required.

Disaster manual mounted on Web
The Western New York Library Resources Council (WNYLRC) has mounted the revised edition (1994) of its Western New York Disaster Preparedness and Recovery Manual for Libraries and Archives on the Web. It contains 21 worksheets for creating a basic disaster plan; a reference section with short essays on planning, setting collection priorities, protection, response, and rehabilitation; plus a bibliography and list of suppliers. Some of the information is useful only for repositories in western New York, but not all. It can be found at http://freenet.buffalo.edu/~lrc/pub/disman.htm#INTRODUCTION.

ACRL APPROVAL PLANS
ACRL publications provide practical ideas, tools, and methods for: management, bibliographic instruction, special collections, collection development, statistics, and research. The convenient and cost-cutting ACRL approval order plan provides automatic priority shipping of ACRL’s new books at a 20% discount to ACRL members (10% to nonmembers).

There are two approval plan categories from which to choose:

- Plan P guarantees that you will automatically be sent all new ACRL publications including CLIP Notes. ACRL publishes approximately 5 to 6 new titles each year.

- Plan PC is exclusively for titles in the CLIP Notes (College Library Information Packets) series. CLIP Notes collect data and sample documents from academic libraries to assist librarians in establishing or refining services and operations.

It's easy to enroll. Make your selection on the order form in this catalog. Or call or write the ACRL Publications Officer indicating the category you have chosen. ACRL/ALA, Approval Plan, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago, IL 60611; (800) 545-2433, ext. 2517.
