ACRL Awards for 1993

Honoring accomplishments and supporting professional development

The Association of College and Research Libraries awards program recognizes special achievements and outstanding publications and fosters professional development in academic and research librarianship. Is someone you know deserving of special recognition for their contributions to academic and research librarianship? Take a moment to nominate these outstanding individuals so they can get the recognition they deserve. Please review the requirements for each award and note those for which you or a colleague are eligible.

General submission procedures
Nominations include documentation (a letter) that indicates: 1) your name, address, and phone number, plus the name, address, and phone number of the person you are nominating; 2) narrative supporting the nomination (keeping in mind the award criteria); 3) a current vita.

Individuals may nominate themselves or others. Unless otherwise indicated send nominations and applications to: (Name of the Award), ACRL, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611.

Staff Contact: For a complete list of previous recipients or if you have questions or need help in compiling a nomination contact: Mary C. Taylor, (800) 545-2433, ext. 2515, (312) 280-2515, or U55380@uicvm.uic.edu.

ACHIEVEMENT/DISTINGUISHED SERVICE

Academic or Research Librarian of the Year Award
This award recognizes an individual member of the library profession who is making an outstanding national or international contribution to academic or research librarianship and library development.

Award: $3,000 donated by Baker & Taylor.

Criteria: Nominees should have demonstrated achievement in such areas as:

1. Service to the organized profession through ACRL and related organizations.
2. Significant and influential research on academic or research library service.
3. Publication of a body of scholarly and/or theoretical writing contributing to academic or research library development.
4. Planning and implementing a library program of such exemplary quality that it has served as a model for others.

Submission procedure: Send eight copies of the nominating package (see general submission procedure above).

Deadline: December 1, 1992.

Miriam Dudley Bibliographic Librarian Award
This award recognizes an individual librarian who has made an especially significant contribution to the advancement of bibliographic instruction in a college or research institution. The award honors Miriam Dudley, whose pioneering efforts in the field of bibliographic instruction led to the formation of the ACRL Bibliographic Instruction Section.

Award: $1,000 cash donated by Mountainside Publishing Company on behalf of its publication, Research Strategies: A Journal of Library Concepts and Instruction. The award is administered by the Bibliographic Instruction Section of ACRL.

Criteria: Nominees should have achieved distinction in one or more of the following areas:

1. Planning and implementation of an academic bibliographic instruction program that has served as a model for other programs nationally or regionally.
2. Production of a body of research and publication that has a demonstrable impact on the concepts and methods of teaching and information-seeking strategies in a college or research institution.
3. Sustained participation in organizations, at the national or regional level, devoted to the promotion and enhancement of academic bibliographic instruction.
4. Promotion, development, and integration of education for bibliographic instruction in ALA-accredited library schools or professional continuing education programs that have served as models for other courses and programs.

Submission procedure: Send nominating package (see general submission procedure above) to: Mary Ellen Litzinger, Instructional Specialist, Pennsylvania State University, Pattee Library, University Park, PA 16802. Call Mary Ellen if you have questions or need assistance in compiling this nomination. Phone: (814) 865-3064. Note: Nominees will be judged on an individual basis; this award cannot be given to a pair or group of persons.

Deadline: December 1, 1992.

Hugh C. Atkinson Memorial Award
This award honors the life and accomplishments of Hugh C. Atkinson, one of the major innovators in modern librarianship, and recognizes outstanding achievement (including risk-taking) by academic librarians that has contributed significantly to improvements in the area of library automation, library management, and/or library development or research.

Award: $2,000 cash and a citation. This award is funded by an endowment created by divisional, individual, and vendor contributions given in memory of Hugh C. Atkinson. Additional funds are sought to bring the endowment to at least $100,000. Send your tax-deductible contributions to: Hugh Atkinson Memorial Award, ACRL/ALA, 50 E. Huron Street, Chicago, IL 60611. The award is jointly sponsored by the ACRL, the Association for Library Collections and Technical Services (ALCTS), the Library Administration and Management Association (LAMA), and the Library and Information Technology Association (LITA), four divisions of the American Library Association.

Eligibility: The nominee must be a librarian employed in a university, college, or community college library in the year prior to application for the award and must have a minimum of five years of professional experience in an academic library.

Criteria: Nominees must have demonstrated achievement (including risk-taking) that has contributed significantly to improvements in the area of library automation, library management, and/or library development or research.

Submission procedure: See general submission procedures above.
Deadline: December 1, 1992.

EBSCO Community College Learning Resources/Library Achievement Awards
These two annual awards recognize significant achievement in the areas of: 1) programs and 2) leadership.

Award: $500 cash for each award plus citations for each award winner are donated by EBSCO Subscription Services.

Eligibility: Individuals or groups from two-year institutions, as well as the two-year institutions themselves, are eligible to receive awards. Nominations will be kept on file for three consecutive years.

Criteria: Nominees for the program awards should demonstrate significant achievement in development of a unique and innovative learning resources/library program. Nominees for the leadership award should demonstrate significant achievement in advocacy of learning resources/library programs or services or leadership in professional organizations that are associated with the mission of community, junior, or technical colleges.

Submission procedure: Nominations should consist of the application form, a narrative letter describing achievements, and any supporting attachments. Send four copies of the nominations to: Paul E. DuMont, Director of Technical Services, Dallas County Community College District, District Service Center, 4343 N. Highway 67, Mesquite, TX 75150-2095; (214) 324-7785.

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE & RESEARCH LIBRARIES
Recruiting the Academic Library Director: A Companion to the Search Committee Handbook
by Sharon Rogers and Ruth Person

Recruiting the Academic Library Director and the Search Committee Handbook together offer practical advice for successfully recruiting and hiring the right director for your library. These two volumes take you through the entire recruitment process including position analysis, comprising the search committee, identifying qualifications, recruiting a good candidate pool, identifying the top candidates, interview and campus visits, and the appointment. The Search Committee Handbook was prepared and published by the American Association for Higher Education under the direction of an advisory committee on which Sharon Rogers served. The publications are available from ACRL only as a two-volume set.

ACRL Approval Plans

ACRL publications provide practical ideas, tools and methods for: management, bibliographic instruction, special collections, collection development, statistics & research.

The convenient and cost-cutting ACRL approval order plan provides automatic priority shipping of ACRL's new books at a 20% discount to ACRL members (10% to non-members).

There are two approval plan categories from which to choose:

Plan P guarantees that you will automatically be sent all new ACRL publications including CLIP Notes. ACRL publishes approximately 5 to 6 new titles each year.

Plan PC is exclusively for titles in the CLIP Notes (College Library Information Packets) series. CLIP Notes collect data and sample documents from academic libraries to assist librarians in establishing or refining services and operations.

Easy to enroll. Call or write Mary C. Taylor, ACRL program officer, indicating the category you have chosen. (ACRL/ALA, Approval Plan, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago, IL 60611; 1-800-545-2433 ext. 2515).
Deadline: December 1, 1992.

Award: $1,000 cash and citation donated by the Institute for Scientific Information.

Eligibility: The recipient of the fellowship must meet the following qualifications:

1. Be an active doctoral student in the academic librarianship area in a degree-granting institution.
2. Have completed all coursework.
3. Have had a dissertation proposal accepted by the institution.
4. A recipient of the fellowship may not receive it a second time.
5. Applicant need not be an ACRL member.

Criteria: The proposal will be judged primarily on merit with emphasis on the following:

1. Potential significance of the research to the field of academic librarianship. (No attempt will be made to define academic librarianship but the subject should be consistent with topics usually published in College & Research Libraries or presented at ACRL meetings.)
2. Validity of the methodology and proposed methods of analysis.
3. Originality and creativity.
4. Clarity and completeness of the proposal.
5. Presentation of a convincing plan for completion in a reasonable amount of time.
6. Evidence of a continuing interest in scholarship such as a previous publication record.

Submission procedure: Qualified students who wish to be considered for the fellowship may apply by submitting a brief (ten pages or less double-spaced) proposal that includes:

1. Description of the research, including significance and methodology.
2. Schedule for completion.
3. Budget and budget justification for items for which support is sought. (Must be items for which no other support is available.)

Examples of acceptable budget items are printing, computer time, fees to subjects, statistical consulting, photography, art work, typing, and professional travel.

4. Name of dissertation advisor and committee members.
5. Cover letter from dissertation advisor endorsing the proposal.

An up-to-date curriculum vitae should accompany the proposal. Because of limits imposed by timing considerations, applications may be made for research under way; e.g., a student who begins research in the fall may apply for support for expenses incurred from the fall until the time the award is made.

Deadline: December 1, 1992.

Martinus Nijhoff International West European Specialist Study Grant

This grant supports research on Western European studies, librarianship, or the book trade.

Award: A maximum of 10,000 Dutch guilders (or U.S. dollar equivalent) donated by Martinus Nijhoff International, a subscription agent and book dealer with headquarters in The Netherlands. This study grant covers air travel to and from Europe, transportation in Europe, and lodging and board for no more than 14 consecutive days. Funds may not be used for salaries, research-related supplies, publication costs, conference fees, or equipment purchases.

Criteria: The primary criterion for awarding the grant is the significance and utility of the proposed project as a contribution to the study of the acquisition, organization, or use of library materials from or relating to Western Europe. Current or historical subjects may be treated. The award jury will review proposals with the following in mind:

1. What is the work to be accomplished? The proposal should be as explicit as possible about the current state of knowledge in the area and what will be achieved by the successful completion of the study.
2. What is the need for and value of the proposed research? The proposal should provide persuasive evidence that the study is of practical use or scholarly value to the wider community served by the grant.
3. What is the methodology for carrying out the proposed work? The research design should Social SciSearch® with Abstracts.

It's no wonder that the librarians from the Association for Research Libraries rank Social SciSearch with Abstracts as the top multidisciplinary social sciences online database.*

Not only does it feature fully searchable author abstracts, it provides the most current bibliographic data available...from three months to a year sooner than any other database! It's multidisciplinary too, so you'll retrieve complete information on every item related to your search...no matter where in the journal literature it was published.

And because only ISI's online files offer cited reference searching, you'll uncover important information that you simply would not find using any other online source.

be as specific as possible and demonstrate why the European component is essential.

4. Is the work accomplishable within the time frame proposed? If the study extends beyond the 14-day limit of the grant, the proposal should specify how the additional work will be completed and funded.

5. Are the applicant's qualifications sufficient to carry out the study?

Submission procedure: Send six (6) copies of the application, which includes:
1. A proposal, five (5) pages or less, typed double-spaced.
2. A tentative travel itinerary not to exceed 14 days, including the proposed countries and institutions to be visited and the preferred period of study/travel.
3. A travel budget, including estimated round-trip coach airfare, transportation in Europe, lodging expenses, and meal costs.
4. A current curriculum vitae.

Obligations of the Grantee: The recipient's detailed expense statement, with original receipts, is due to ACRL within two months of the trip's termination. The grantee is required to submit a report to ACRL within six months of no less than 4,000 words on the research resulting from the study trip. It is assumed that in most cases this report will be suitable for publication; if so, ACRL is given the first right of refusal. The grantee should submit an abstract of the report for publication in the WESS Newsletter. In addition, the grantee may be asked to participate in a WESS general discussion group, advise the award jury, or counsel new grantees. Recipients are encouraged, but not required, to join WESS and become involved in its activities.

Deadline: December 1, 1992.

Samuel Lazerow Fellowship for Research in Acquisitions or Technical Services in an Academic or Research Library

This award fosters advances in acquisitions or technical services by providing librarians a fellowship for travel or writing in those fields. Research projects in collection development or the compilation of bibliographies will not be supported by this fellowship.

Award: $1,000 cash and a citation donated by the Institute for Scientific Information.

Criteria: The proposals will be judged with an emphasis on the following:
1. Potential significance of the project to acquisitions or technical services work.
2. Originality and creativity.
3. Clarity and completeness of the proposal.
4. Evidence of an interest in scholarship, such as a previous publication record.

Submission procedure: Brief proposals (five pages or less, double-spaced) should include the following:
1. Description of research, travel, or writing project.
2. Schedule for project.
3. Estimate of expenses (e.g., professional travel, computer time, photocopying, typing.)
4. Recipients of the fellowship will be asked to submit a brief report of the results of their research.
5. An up-to-date curriculum vitae should accompany proposal.

Deadline: December 1, 1992.

PUBLICATIONS OR ARTICLES

Katharine Kyes Leab and Daniel J. Leab, American Book Prices Current, Exhibition Catalogue Awards

These awards recognize outstanding catalogs published by American or Canadian institutions in conjunction with exhibitions of books and/or manuscripts.

Award: A printed citation to the winning institutions organizing the exhibitions. Katharine Kyes Leab and Daniel J. Leab, American Book Prices Current, established an endowment to fund the awards.

Eligibility: Catalogs published by American or Canadian institutions in conjunction with an exhibition of books and/or manuscripts which has taken place or which is in progress before August 31, 1992, are eligible. Catalogs must be published between September 1, 1991, and August 31, 1992. The entries will be divided into three budget categories—expensive, moderately expensive, and inexpensive—based upon the production costs as outlined in the entry form. Catalogs may be of varying formats, styles, and scope, but each must represent an exhibition which has taken place. Catalogs may be intended for various types of audiences: e.g., scholars, students, general public. Catalogs may have various purposes: e.g., publicity, dissemination of information about a collection, attraction of donations, commemoration of a special occasion, etc.

Criteria: Catalogs will be judged on the level of accuracy and consistency of presentation, their clarity, quality of design, and usefulness to the intended audience.

Submission procedure: Four (4) copies of the catalog must be submitted with an entry form (available from the chair of the committee) to the chair: Marvin J. Taylor, Special Collections, Columbia University, Health Sciences Library, 701 W. 168th Street, New York, NY 10032. All catalog submissions will become the property of RBMS. If you have any questions, call Marvin Taylor at (212) 305-7931.

International Film Index
Edited by Alan Goble

This is the most exhaustive film directory and director's filmography ever compiled. It lists 90% of all American, European, and Australasian feature films ever made — more than 232,000 film titles, and includes shorts, animated features, documentaries, serials and even TV films, spanning the entire era of moving pictures.

Arranged alphabetically, the Director's entries list dates of birth and death; country of birth and filmmaking; and a complete chronology of films with dates and alternative titles. Title entries contain year of release, director, country of film finance, type of film and alternative title. Supplementary indexes of directors by country, and a massive bibliography further augment the value of this work.

Pre-Cinema History
An Annotated Bibliography
Dr. Hermann Hecht and Anne Hecht

The Camera Obscura outlined by Da Vinci, the Magick Lantern devised in the 17th century, the Thaumatrope and the Phénakistoscope—these are some of the optical inventions which led to the emergence of film. They represent a fraction of the 4,500 entries contained in Pre-Cinema History, a worldwide bibliography of moving picture representations spanning six centuries.

Arranged in chronological order, each notable object or occasion is described and set in its historical context. Full bibliographic references with contents summaries and quotations from the original article and contemporary press clippings are also provided.
