The completed application must be postmarked by September 1, 1988.

The University of Alaska Fairbanks is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer and Educational Institution.

July/August 1988 / 461
Nominations and applications are invited for the position of Director of University Libraries for the University at Albany, State University of New York, one of four university centers within the state-wide SUNY system. The University seeks an experienced Director who will function as an officer of the University, working with the Deans and policymaking councils to articulate plans to provide superior research libraries. The successful applicant will be an active scholar and progressive leader dedicated to building strong ties with the faculty and expanding the libraries.

The Director manages a staff of 135 FTE, a total budget of over $5.9 million including an annual acquisitions budget of $2.25 million, and collections of 1.2 million catalogued volumes. The library has its own computer systems development staff to support its integrated automated system (acquisitions, online catalog and circulation) and online computer based reference services. The University Libraries, a member of ARL and RLG, support a wide range of doctoral and research programs, serving a campus community of 16,000 students and 2,420 faculty and staff. University Libraries’ memberships include SUNY/OCLC network, Center for Research Libraries, and the Capital District Library Council.

Responsibilities: The Director of University Libraries is responsible for the leadership and management of the Libraries and the library faculty/staff, including planning, budgeting, and management of facilities and services. He or she serves as a University representative in a variety of campus and external environments. The Director holds a rank equivalent to Dean and serves as a member of the Council of Deans, the University Senate Council on Libraries, Computing and Information Systems, and the University Policy Council. The Director is a member of the highest policymaking committees on campus and provides input for academic as well as other policy concerns in support of the University mission.

Preferred Qualifications: The successful candidate will have a proven record of leadership, substantial administrative experience, and evidence of continuing scholarly participation and professional growth. Also important are familiarity with the operation of large academic or research libraries with special emphasis on the application of library technology, experience in the successful planning and renovation of library facilities, and a record of accomplishment in seeking external funding support. Graduate training, including an MLS, is desired.

Eminent Scholar/Teachers

Documented videotape lectures by master educators for home or classroom viewing

"Every American — in or out of school — by means of a home VCR or a library or television station that shows the Eminent Scholar/Teachers series now has access to the faculties of leading universities."

FREDERICK G. RUFFNER, JR.
President — Omnigraphics

Modern American Literature Series

This series treats the main currents of literary activity, major authors, and key works in America between 1900 and World War II. It provides necessary backgrounds and positions the authors and their works in the context of American literary history. All videotapes are accompanied by printed lecture guides; student and instructor's handbooks, manuals, and course companions will also be available.

Individual videotapes $85.00. Standing order for complete series, 5% discount.
