Many libraries that don't own the Science Citation Index often “rent” the use of it through our Search Service.

Just tell us what subject you want searched, which years of the journal literature to cover, and how fast you need the search completed. We'll put one of our Information Specialists to work with an SCI® and send you the results on convenient index cards. If you're in a big hurry, we'll even telephone the search results. The minimum charge is $30, for which you get up to two hours of searching. Thereafter, it’s $25 per hour. You tell us when to stop.

Use the coupon for more information on ISI's Search Service.
More than 1100 libraries currently receive U.S. Government Publications under the Depository Library Program

Now, for the first time, you can learn exactly WHICH LIBRARIES GET WHICH PUBLICATIONS

Available for the first time in any format . . . this unique new four volume reference set contains:

- more than 1.5 million "location citations" of depository holdings,

- 3,100 classes of publications available for selection by depository libraries—arranged in Superintendent of Documents Class order (hierarchically by government author-organizations under 59 main headings),

- a directory of 1,122 depository libraries listed by state and by depository number within state (for easy identification of location citations). These library entries give complete mailing addresses, including ZIP codes, and the years during which they were designated as depositories,

- the complete "List of Classes of U.S. Government Publications Available for Selection by Depository Libraries (Revised January 11, 1973)". This list has been updated to November, 1973 and NUC/GP page numbers have been added to show where the holdings are listed for each entry,

- an "Item Number Index" showing SuDoc Class Numbers for each publication "Item" available for selection,

- a "Best Seller" list ranking the 300 publication classes selected by the largest numbers of depository libraries. This ranking of course, does not reflect on the quality or usefulness of the publications, but rather on the breadth of interest in their subject matter,

- some 2 million "negative entries" showing which libraries do not receive which available documents (this information can be used as an aid in the selection and disposal of documents for various types of collections).

U.S. Government monographs and serials are NOT included in standard reference works as the National Union Catalog, the National Union List, or New Serial Titles.

Now, with the first publication of a national union catalog of U.S. Government documents, libraries of all types and sizes—depository and non-depository alike—will be able to benefit more effectively from the expanding national Depository Library Program.

NUC/GP provides basic information which can be used in finding, borrowing, lending, ordering, and disposing of the full range of current U.S. Government depository publications.

"A valuable addition to reference collections...Highly recommended"
—Choice

"This magnificently produced and edited compilation is overwhelming in the scope and quality of its contributions. It is not a dictionary in the usual sense, but rather a set of over 300 articles, each covering several large double-column pages, and arranged alphabetically. The work includes an analytical table of contents organized into a 'seven-fold grouping of topics' according to the domains and disciplines forming the work's basic framework, as well as an alphabetical title list of the articles... Each article is supplemented by an excellent bibliography of related works, with abundant cross references to relevant entries in the Dictionary itself... Any student or scholar, confronted with this huge cornucopia of concepts, should simply take a month off and begin reading. It is indeed the only modern reference work with a fully interdisciplinary approach, running the gamut from science to philosophy to literature to art and seeking out relationships and interactions. The set will be indispensable for all libraries, academic and public, and a lifetime delight for any individual who can afford it."

when seen through MasterLens
Cataloging, research or the ordinary reading requirements of day-to-day work around your library often call for prolonged study of small print or fine details—conditions that can cause strain in even the sharpest eyes. EdnaLite MasterLens with its powerful magnifier and bright glare-free light source takes the eye-strain out of close work—increases accuracy and efficiency. And if MasterLens is a help to those with ordinary good vision, think what a lifesaver it is to library employees and patrons who have visual handicaps!

MasterLens. Just plug it in. Complete, self-contained...useful and effective. The best way to look at things.

Lightweight portable model. Magnifies type to double size. Same superb optical qualities as RL model. With its own carrying case. $140.

MasterLens RL, on its own base, with an articulated arm that allows a close, clear, comfortable look at any part of the page without shifting the book. Enlarges to twice size. Regularly $207. Now, for a limited time $179.
