"Data", by Richard M. Beazley. Although this report would normally be published by the Government Printing Office, the National Center for Education Statistics made arrangements with the Illinois library school so that the findings from the 1976 national survey could finally be published. Price: $5.

• Another newly published guide to the literature of a subject is Robert E. Maizell's How to Find Chemical Information: A Guide for Practicing Chemists, Teachers, and Students (Wiley, $17.95).

• Butterworths has issued revised editions of two useful works in librarianship: C. J. van Rijssbergen's Information Retrieval ($32.50) and S. J. Teague's Microform Librarianship ($15.95). Available from Butterworths at its new address, 10 Tower Office Park, Woburn, MA 01801.

• The Role of Women in Librarianship, 1876-1976: The Entry, Advancement, and Struggle for Equalization in One Profession, by Kathleen Weibel and Kathleen M. Heim (Oryx Press, $14.95). "is a sourcebook compiled to provide a history of the first hundred years of a profession traditionally classed as a 'women's profession'"; there are two major sections in the book—an anthology of forty-four selections from the literature and an annotated bibliography of more than 1,000 items.

• Jane Williamson is the author of New Feminist Scholarship: A Guide to Bibliographies (published by the Feminist Press, Box 334, Old Westbury, NY 11568). This work "includes 391 bibliographies, resource lists, and literature reviews on women that were published separately or that appeared as periodical articles" and is arranged by subject into thirty sections. Price: $15.

• Sign Systems for Libraries: Solving the Wayfinding Problem, compiled by Dorothy Pollot and Peter C. Haskell (Bowker, $24.95). Includes twenty original articles on theory and research, design of a visual guidance system, practical library solutions, and visual guidance and the library building.

• The May/June 1979 issue of ALA's Library Technology Reports ($40 for separate issue) features Nancy H. Knight's "Theft Detection Systems Revisited: An Updated Survey" with descriptions of five major systems that are available.
