NOTICE

Respondents to advertisers offering faculty "rank" and "status" are advised that these terms are ambiguous and should inquire as to benefits involved.

All advertisements submitted by institutions offering positions must include a salary range. The range should provide the applicant with an indication of the salary, the institution is willing to provide for the position offered.

All advertisements for the Positions Wanted and the Positions Open classifications will be edited to exclude direct or indirect references to race, creed, color, age, and sex as conditions of employment.

Classified advertising orders and copy, and cancellations, should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago 60611, and should reach that office before the second of the month preceding publication of issue desired. Copy received after that time may be held for the next issue.

Rate for classified advertising is $1.25 per printed line. No additional charge is made for nonmember advertising.

SCIENCE CITATION INDEX®
the reference that sheds a whole new light on literature searching...

first place to look...for anything

Science Citation Index — the uniquely effective search tool that organizes the world's current scientific and technical journal literature by the author's own reference citations — retrieves more pertinent articles on almost any given subject, faster, than any other reference of any kind.

So it's the first place to look when you want to search the journal literature. For maximum certainty of finding what you're after. For speed and ease of finding it, too.

SCI® is based on the fact that one of the best guides to the subject matter of a scientific article is its bibliography — the people and articles the author himself cited to support his own work. It's called "citation indexing". And study after study has shown this method of organizing the journal literature more effective than conventional indexing systems.

What's more, the Science Citation Index is completely multi-disciplinary — covering every article in every issue of more than 2,400 scientific journals from all over the world. So you need only look in this one, instead of a number of different references.

The next time you need to know what's been published in any specific area of science and technology, turn first to the Science Citation Index. Chances are you'll turn to it first (and last) each time after that. For more on what the Science Citation Index can do for you, send for our free brochure.

Greenwood Introduces
A New Bibliographic and Reference Service

INDEX TO CURRENT URBAN DOCUMENTS

THE ONLY SOURCE OF COMPLETE INFORMATION AVAILABLE TO SCHOLARS AND WORKERS INVOLVED IN EVERY PHASE OF CURRENT URBAN RESEARCH AND URBAN AFFAIRS

The INDEX TO CURRENT URBAN DOCUMENTS closes a major bibliographic gap in the field of government publications by making available, for the first time, complete and detailed bibliographic descriptions of the vast number of official documents issued annually by the larger cities and counties in the United States. With the cooperation and assistance of local libraries and of major reference libraries, the program will attempt to catalog and index documents issued by 153 cities of 100,000 or more inhabitants and 25 counties of 1,000,000 or more inhabitants as determined by the 1970 census.

The INDEX will be published in paperbound format and issued in March, June, September, and December. An annual, bound cumulative volume will be available by the following March.

Each INDEX is divided into two parts:

1. An author list of city, county, state and federal official public documents arranged alphabetically by city, with counties and state and federal agencies listed under corresponding city names. Each document is to be cited fully, including main and added entries, principal and subordinate titles, and imprint.

2. A classified catalog with subject index, listing each document, fully cited, with classmarks.

EDITORS: Greenwood’s Urban Documents program is under the direction of Aaron L. Fessler, formerly chief librarian of Bard College. The Consulting Editor is David R. Beasley of the Economics Division of the New York Public Library, who has devoted many years to the collection and organization of information about municipal documents.

SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION: Annual subscriptions to the quarterly paperbound edition of the INDEX TO CURRENT URBAN DOCUMENTS are $75.00. The bound, annual cumulated volumes will be available separately to subscribers for $30.00.

DESCRIPTIVE BROCHURE AVAILABLE ON REQUEST

FUTURE MICROFORM SERVICE: In the Fall of 1972 Greenwood will begin to publish on microfiche the 1971 and 1972 documents cited in the Index. These documents and those indexed in subsequent years will be available to subscribers and others as complete collections or by specified city or by specified subject.

To: GREENWOOD PERIODICALS CO., 51 Riverside Avenue, Westport, Connecticut 06880
