TOP SECRET

If you haven’t already ordered WIPIS™ for 1971, then you might as well consider the information it contains top secret! Data in the 1971 Annual of ISI’s WHO IS PUBLISHING IN SCIENCE™ just isn’t available from any other single source.

Only ISI’s unique multidisciplinary data base can give you the names and current addresses and organizational affiliations of more than 230,000 scientists and technologists who had a journal article published during 1970. Scientists from over 35,000 organizations around the world are included — scientists whose research work ranges from experimental to applied.

With WIPIS you can
• Help your patrons keep in touch with colleagues, exchange ideas, arrange meetings, or request reprints
• Check the level of scientific writing activity at specific organizations and their various departments
• Identify and locate little-known organizations — especially foreign ones
• Verify authors’ names for bibliographies

And WIPIS is easy to use. Indexing by name, organization, and geographic location makes it possible for anyone to use WIPIS without your constant guidance.

Result: Your patrons can help themselves while you work on other projects.

Now that we’ve disclosed some of the details of WIPIS, we’ll be happy to totally de-classify our top secret data for you. Use the coupon to order.

UPDATES THE 1909 CHECKLIST AND OTHER BASIC REFERENCE TOOLS USED BY DOCUMENTS LIBRARIANS

Here's how the two standard reference books on U.S. Government documents evaluate the public Documents Library, its collection, the SuDocs Classification scheme, and the need for updating the predecessors of Checklist '70.

"There is probably no complete collection of government publications in existence, but the one in the Public Documents Library is probably the most nearly complete... it has all issues listed in the Monthly Catalog and the biennial Documents Catalog. It also has some material not so listed, as back issues are often sent to the library after the catalogs are printed."

"The Library of the Office of Superintendent of Documents is of interest to librarians... because of the classification scheme by which its collection is arranged. It has been adopted by many other libraries throughout the country as a most convenient and satisfactory method of organizing and arranging collections of government publications."

"There have been three checklists of government publications... The third, which was much more inclusive and a monumental work of incalculable value covering the entire period of United States publications to 1909... was published in 1911."

"A fourth edition, bringing the third edition to date, is the aid to government publications most needed by the librarians."

The most comprehensive single source of published information on U.S. Government Documents.

Carper W. Buckley
U.S. Superintendent of Documents
1953-1970

BIBLIOGRAPHIC DATA ON MORE THAN 1.5 MILLION U.S. GOVERNMENT PUBLICATIONS

Now available to librarians for the first time in any format. As stated by Carper W. Buckley, who until his retirement in 1970 had served as U.S. Superintendent of Documents since 1953.

"Checklist '70 provides librarians with the most comprehensive single source of published information about United States Government documents. It lists all titles which appear in the shelf lists of the Public Documents Library of the U.S. Government Printing Office, covering the period 1861 through October 1970. Also included are the publications listed in the Checklist of U.S. Public Documents, 1789-1909, the Monthly Catalog and Mary Elizabeth Poole's Documents Office Classification to 1966."

Each citation is at least as complete as the entries in the Monthly Catalog and often provides more information. For instance, bibliographic data on each issue of certain periodicals are included, as well as complete cross-references for changes in classification numbers, titles, or issuing agencies. Cutterized separates are listed for some series publications.

IN BOUND VOLUMES – NOW AVAILABLE FOR INDIVIDUAL PURCHASE

These five full size indexes to the microfilm collection are now being supplied as part of the dual media edition and are also for the first time being made available as individual volumes. All but Index IV were computer generated and were compiled by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel and Marilyn Lester of Mankato State College in Minnesota.

INDEX I. SU Docs CLASSIFICATION ORDER INDEX OF U.S. GOVERNMENT AUTHOR-ORGANIZATIONS, 1789-1970 lists the names of some 6000 government "author-organizations" in SuDocs Class order showing microfilm reel numbers.

INDEX II. U.S. GOVERNMENT AUTHOR-ORGANIZATION INDEX, 1789-1970 arranged alphabetically by the official names of 6000 active and inactive publication-issuing offices. This index brings together all SDC numbers for any issuing office regardless of its reorganization history.

INDEX III. DEPARTMENTAL INDEX TO U.S. GOVERNMENT AUTHOR-ORGANIZATIONS, 1789-1970 contains a breakdown of Government issuing offices listed alphabetically under the cabinet level departments or major agencies to which they report.

INDEX IV. U.S. GOVERNMENT SERIAL TITLES, 1789-1970 Note: This index volume has been substantially expanded in size and scope since our initial announcement. It now contains not only an alphabetical listing of 18,000 current and discontinued serial titles contained in the Serials card File of the Public Documents Library (with their SDC numbers and microfilm reels), but also their bibliographic histories and other annotations. This additional information was obtained by checking each title against the microfilm copies of the shelf list cards in both the active and inactive files.

INDEX V. KEYWORD INDEX TO THE PUBLICATION-ISSUING OFFICES OF THE U.S. GOVERNMENT, 1789-1970 Note: This computer generated index was recently added to the 4 originally offered with Checklist '70, in order to provide a form of subject access to the massive collection. It lists the 6000 Government "issuing offices" under some 27,000 subject oriented keyword entries. Because of the unusual length and descriptive nature of the names of U.S. Government offices, this keyword index provides a surprising degree of subject access. The fact that each "issuing office" is listed under an average of 4.5 descriptive entries (even after the exclusion of such general words as "bureau", "committee", etc.), attests to the effectiveness of the index. SDC numbers and reel numbers are repeated in each entry.

READER SERIES IN LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE
READER IN AMERICAN LIBRARY HISTORY
edited by Michael H. Harris

"This volume is intended to contribute to the reader's understanding of the historical development of libraries and librarianship in America from the colonial period to the early twentieth century. An examination of American library history shows how the role of the library has been defined and redefined through the years, and will illuminate those social needs that stimulated the rise and encouraged the support of libraries over the past 300 years." from the preface. 242 pp. $10.95 if billed*. $9.95 payment with order.

OTHER READERS IN THE SERIES

READER IN LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION
Edited by Paul Wasserman and Mary Lee Bundy
Shows the complexity of the modern library organization and identifies important issues facing administrations rather than focusing upon techniques and providing solutions or formula.
$10.95 if billed*
$9.95 payment with order

READER IN RESEARCH METHODS FOR LIBRARIANSHIP
Edited by Mary Lee Bundy and Paul Wasserman
Concerns itself with the design and conduct of research as well as the philosophical and social implications of research on librarianship.
$11.95 if billed*

This series, under the general editorship of Dr. Paul Wasserman, brings together previously published articles required for a comprehensive view of major topics in library science. It includes material from a wide range of disciplines in addition to the traditional literature of librarianship. The Series is invaluable for use as texts for courses in library science, supplementary course reading, a focus for seminar discussion, individual study.

Here are 35 case studies based on actual, emerging political and social issues which might arise in any modern library. They offer remarkable learning and teaching experiences for anyone concerned with libraries because they help the reference librarian, library student and library administrator to identify, analyze, judge and resolve such problems as requests for reading lists on sex education . . . library service in open-admissions colleges . . . application of performance budgeting to reference service . . . and more. LC 77-162527. June 1971.

Both volumes are part of the Bowker Series, “Problem-Centered Approaches to Librarianship,” edited by Professor Thomas J. Galvin of the School of Library Science, Simmons College.

CHECKPOINT protects more books and more journals in more libraries than all other systems combined... actually over 7,000,000 volumes and periodicals in well over 100 public, academic and special libraries in the United States, Canada, England and Puerto Rico.

Why the overwhelming preference for CHECKPOINT?

CHECKPOINT is reliable because it is designed on superior scientific principles... can't be circumvented by shielding or otherwise.

CHECKPOINT is silent and unobtrusive... accidental carry-out or deliberate pilferage are stopped instantly... without offending the patron or embarrassing the staff.

CHECKPOINT performs as promised... documented inventories prove book losses are reduced by almost 90 percent.

CHECKPOINT protects your entire collection... eliminates the need for closed stacks or restricted reserves. With CHECKPOINT you can relax.

Let us take you to inspect a nearby CHECKPOINT installation. Or ask us to send additional information. No obligation, of course.

ered upon acceptance of 1971 Aspen Humanistic Award by the French statesman, economist, and president of the “Action Committee for United States of Europe,” an organization of leading political, business, and labor leaders of six nations of the Common Market and the U.K. The speech briefly describes the rationale behind the formation of the United States of Europe and the goals which it feels are essential to the future of Western Europe.

“A View from the White House,” lecture delivered by Max Frankel, chief of the Washington Bureau of the New York Times, at the Aspen Institute, 1970. It presents a reflective view of the U.S. presidency, defining the terms by which our society must choose a president and the power which it is willing to have the president exercise.

• A new publication, Journal Holdings of Maine Libraries, has just been printed. The seven hundred and seven-page edition lists the journal holdings of thirty-one academic, public, and special libraries in the state of Maine. This computer-based list contains over 30,000 entries of the major libraries in the state. The book is available at $5.00 each from Mr. William C. Ahrens, Assistant University Librarian, University of Maine, Orono, ME. Checks should be made out to the University of Maine.

• The August 1971 issue of the list of “Graduate Library School Programs Accredited by the American Library Association” is available upon request from the Committee on Accreditation, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611. Issued semi-annually by the ALA Committee on Accreditation, the official list gives the name and address of each library school offering an accredited program, the name of the dean or director, and the name of the degree to which the accredited program leads. Library schools offering doctoral and postmaster's specialist or certificate programs are so designated on the list.
