*Rather than establish one statewide salary minimum, some state associations have adopted a formula based on such variables as comparable salaries for public school teachers in each community or the grade level of a professional librarian post. In these cases, you may wish to contact the state association for minimum salary information. More information, contact the ALA Office for Library Personnel Resources.
The University of Maine at Augusta (UMA), which offers two- and four-year degrees to 2,500 FTE students on three campuses and statewide, seeks an Assistant Dean of Libraries. UMA is one of seven institutions of the University of Maine System and a nationally recognized leader in distance education.

The Library holds approximately 63,000 books and 520 periodicals and has a staff of 11 FTE. It is committed to maintaining and building a traditional collection and to the growth of its extensive electronic resources. Library staff work in a highly collaborative environment; they are encouraged to exercise initiative and independence in their specialties. UMA shares a sophisticated online catalog with the other libraries of the UMaine System and contributes to the development of the System’s digital library.

The Assistant Dean oversees, manages, and participates in the day-to-day operations of the library. S/he supervises circulation, technical services, A-V and the Information Desk; monitors budgets; coordinates the development and implementation of policies and procedures; and is involved in short- and long-term planning. S/he provides leadership in the development of electronic resources and technology and takes part in coordinating staff training. The Assistant Dean directs UMA’s two-year library science program, which is offered in Maine and throughout the U.S. by video and the Internet.

Requirements: ALA-accredited MLA or degree in a related field and five years professional experience (preferably in an academic library) including demonstrated success in leadership, management and supervision. Broad knowledge of academic library programs, which is offered in Maine and throughout the U.S. by video and the Internet.
