Deadline: Orders for regular classified advertisements must reach the ACRL office on or before the second of the month preceding publication of the issue (e.g., September 2 for the October issue). Late job listings will be accepted on a space-available basis after the second of the month.

Rates: Classified advertisements are $6.00 per line for ACRL members, $7.60 for others. Late job notices are $14.50 per line for members, $17.00 for others. Organizations submitting ads will be charged according to their membership status.

Telephone: All telephone orders should be confirmed by a written order mailed to ACRL headquarters as soon as possible. Orders should be accompanied by a typewritten copy of the ad to be used in proofreading. An additional $15 will be charged for ads taken over the phone (except late job notices or display ads).

Guidelines: For ads which list an application deadline, that date must be no sooner than the 20th day of the month in which the notice appears (e.g., October 20 for the October issue). All job announcements should include a salary figure. Job announcements will be edited to exclude discriminatory references. Applicants should be aware that the terms faculty rank and status vary in meaning among institutions.

JOBLINE: Call (312) 944-6795 for late-breaking job ads for academic and research library positions. A pre-recorded summary of positions listed with the service is revised weekly; each Friday a new tape includes all ads received by 1:00 p.m. the previous day. Each listing submitted will be carried on the recording for two weeks. The charge for each two-week listing is $30 for ACRL members and $35 for non-members.

Contact: Classification & Personnel, 201 Olin Library, ACRL, American Library Association, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611-2795; (312) 280-2513.

ALA policy requires that organizations recruiting through ALA publications or placement services comply with ALA anti-discrimination policies. Policy 54.3 states that "ALA is committed to equality of opportunity for all library employees or applicants for employment, regardless of race, color, creed, sex, age, physical or mental handicap, individual life-style, or national origin." By advertising through ALA services, the organization agrees to comply with this policy.

DIRECTOR OF THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
Case Western Reserve University

Case Western Reserve University is accepting nominations and applications for the position of Director of the University Library.

Case Western Reserve is committed to the development of a “Library of the Future” that does away with the conventional separation between library and computing services. At the hub of this learning environment will be a new University library facility, a campus centerpiece for teaching and research that will combine traditional library holdings and services with electronic access to remote data and other information sources.

The Director manages all resources of the University Library, including staff, materials, budgets and other funding, equipment, and facilities to achieve the Library’s overall goal of meeting the instructional and research information needs of the University’s faculty, students, and staff. There are separately administered campus libraries for law, health sciences, and social work. The Director reports to the Vice President for Information Services and is responsible for a staff of 79.

Qualifications include senior management experience in a major academic library, with substantial experience in staff recruitment, management, and development; significant experience in the application of information technologies to support and enhance library services; and the ability to work effectively with diverse constituencies within and outside the University. We anticipate that candidates will hold an M.L.S. degree; a doctorate or other additional advanced degree is desirable. Candidates must have a record of initiative and achievement in developing programs and services, and be committed to the goals of a research university and to the intellectual and service mission of the library.

The position will be available as of Sept. 15, 1990. The anticipated appointment date is July 1, 1991, although an earlier appointment would be desirable. Salary is competitive, with an extensive benefits package. Applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names of at least three references.

Nominations and applications should be sent to: Chairman, Search Advisory Committee for Director of the University Library, c/o Office of Public Affairs, Case Western Reserve University, 2040 Adelbert Road, Room 26, Cleveland, OH 44106. Review of materials will begin at once and continue until an appointment is made.

To ensure full consideration, nominations and applications should be received by Nov. 1, 1990.

In employment as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to affirmative action and equal opportunity.

SERIALS LIBRARIAN, Indiana University of Pennsylvania seeks a librarian to oversee the Libraries' serials operations, including responsibility for collection development, bibliography, and public service. The library system, which includes a central facility and 4 branch libraries, subscribes to over 4,500 periodicals and contains over 600,000 book volumes, 98,000 bound journals, and 1.7 million items of microforms. The serials budget exceeds $600,000. The Serials Department is in the process of building its bibliographic database in the INNOVACQ Serials System as well as in the Carlyle online catalog. The Serials Librarian, with a current support staff of five, works closely with all segments of the University to provide a high level of service to growing constituencies. The Serials Librarian participates in planning and implementation of automation within the department and the Library. The Serials Librarian provides reference service at the Information Service Desk on weekends on a rotating basis. An ALA-accredited MLS, two to four years relevant professional or pre-professional work experience in an academic library with a background in serials, a thorough working knowledge of the Serials MARC format and an understanding of serials automation issues, an ability to work constructively as a team member, and a commitment to public service are required. The Serials Librarian must be well organized, self-directed, and self-motivated. Excellent oral and written communication skills as well as an ability to work effectively with the public and colleagues are essential. Present university practice requires a second master's degree or doctorate for tenure. Depending upon qualifications, appointment will be at the rank of instructor or assistant professor with the minimum salaries of $21,000 and $25,000 respectively for nine months. Salary and rank are negotiable. Additional summer employment is possible. Librarians at IUP are faculty with full academic rank, rights, and responsibilities consistent with that status. Benefits are excellent. Please apply with a letter of application, current resume and three letters of references by November 2, 1990, to: Ronald A. Steiner, Chairperson, Serials Search Committee, Stapleton Library, Indi­ ana University of Pennsylvania, Indiana, PA 15705-1096. The anticipated appointment date is December 29, 1990. IUP is committed to affirmative action and equal opportunity. Women and persons of color are particularly encouraged to apply.
