ASSISTANT UNIVERSITY LIBRARIAN FOR PUBLIC SERVICES
University of California, Irvine

The main focus of an AUL position is the welfare of the library as a whole, within the context of specific divisional or functional responsibilities. The incumbent will report directly to the University Librarian and will be a member of the Council of Department Heads.

University of California, Irvine, with a total campus area of 1,510 acres, is located in Orange County, 40 miles south of Los Angeles and five miles from the Pacific Ocean, has an enrollment of 13,500, with a faculty of 700 including the medical school. There are 30 doctoral programs in addition to the M.D. The library has a total collection of approximately 1,250,000 volumes. It is an integral part of the University of California’s research library system. The library consists of 47 academic FTE, 112 support staff FTE, and employs over 200 students.

Responsibilities: Responsible for personnel matters related to all library academic appointees, support staff, student and casual employees. Acts as a counselor and advisor to the Associate Vice Chancellor Academic Affairs, to the University Librarian and AULs and to Department Heads in the areas of library personnel management, affirmative action, and the administration of the collective bargaining contracts. Responsible for the planning, development, monitoring, evaluation and modification of library personnel services which include recruitment, interviewing, selection and appointment of both academic and support staff employees, orientation and administration of the university benefits program; administration of campus policies related to merit increases, probation, promotion and reclassification of support staff personnel; resolution of grievances; and payroll record keeping and administration of all library employees. Responsible for staff development and training. Responsible for the organization, staffing and administration of the Library Personnel Office and all programs related thereto. Initiates and pursues action involving the annual call for academic reviews of appointees in the AUL and in the librarian series. As a member of the Council of Department Heads, participates in the general administrative planning and budgeting process in the library. Participates in campus, system-wide, local, state, and national activities appropriate to the needs of the library and UCI administration.

Qualifications: required: MLS degree. Demonstrated increasingly responsible professional administrative experience, principally in academic libraries, or in a complex organizational environment. Competence in planning, setting objectives and priorities, mobilizing individuals in group action, and organizing for effective action. Strong interpersonal and communication skills. Capability of working effectively with various academic, library, and public groups as well as with individuals. Understanding of concepts of personnel administration, management, counseling and interviewing, and fundamentals of labor relations. Desirable: Preference will be given to candidates with previous training and experience in personnel management, staff development, and labor relations in a collective bargaining environment.

Salary will be dependent on the candidate’s qualifications for the position. Salary range as of 1 January 1986: $38,600–$61,400. Benefits are equal to approximately 40% of salary.

Appointment will be made as soon as possible following successful completion of the search process. Applications received by 1 March 1986 will be given first consideration, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled. In their letter, candidates should supply: 1) A complete statement of their qualifications; 2) Full resume of their education and related experience; and 3) The names, addresses and telephone numbers of five persons who can supply frank and objective references on their qualifications for this position.

to monitor Japanese technical information and translate selected Japanese technical documents; report annually on Japanese technical developments; publish an annual index of government translations; and encourage more U.S. companies and trade associations to review Japanese technical literature.

The Senate Commerce Committee report (S. Rept. 99-175) indicates the bill is designed to address the fact that some of the most advanced technological developments now take place in other countries, especially Japan, and that lack of information due to barriers of access, language, cost, and insufficient coordination among government programs can damage U.S. companies' ability to compete. S. 1073 was introduced by Sen. Max Baucus (D-MT); a pending House companion bill has been introduced by Rep. Norman Mineta (D-CA) -- HR 3831.

New Resources for Information Professionals

Encyclopedia of Information Systems and Services 1985-86

This new 1985-86 edition is a valuable and up-to-date reference work that describes all types of organizations that provide computer-readable information. Included are libraries, database producers, online vendors, videotex/teletext services, consultants, associations, etc.

Several of the Encyclopedia's 27 indexes are of special interest to database users. The Computer-Readable Data Bases Index is essential when this work is used as a database directory. The Data Base Producers and Publishers Index lists 2,000 entries. The Online Services/Telecommunications Networks Index lists nearly 400 online vendors and time-sharing systems.

This edition is divided into an International volume and a United States volume. Together they include information on some 5,600 databases.
