and random, and were therefore not subject to measurement or control. The error levels in the present system could be reduced by increasing the sample size; however, the library administration has decided that the present level of accuracy is sufficient for the time being.

The reference staff have greatly appreciated their release from the tyranny of recording statistics every hour of every day, and have reported improved interactions with patrons as a result of greater freedom to concentrate on service. Graduate assistants were scheduled for only one or two statistics sessions in the average month, so the extra duty did not impose any great hardship. In fact, statistics duty frequently helped them make up hours lost during breaks and university holidays. The assistants became quite adept at statistics-taking during the year, and encountered surprisingly little difficulty asking each patron his or her status.

Small modifications have been made in the statistics system for fiscal year 1987/88. The most significant change is that the “other” category of patrons has been divided into four sub-categories (faculty and staff of other universities, other information professionals, elementary and secondary school students, and “other”). In general, however, the new sampling approach to reference desk statistics has been highly successful at LSU Libraries, and is considered worthy of emulation by other reference departments who would like to increase the accuracy of their desk statistics while decreasing the effort and resources devoted to collecting them.

How to participate in ACRL

Information for new members and potential members.

To join
Write or call the Association of College and Research Libraries for application forms and information: ACRL Office, 50 E. Huron St., Chicago, IL 60611-2795; (312) 944-6780.

To learn about ACRL's current programs, officers, and units
Check the ALA Handbook of Organization and read College & Research Libraries News regularly (as a member of ACRL, you will receive both publications).

To attend conference programs, ACRL Board meetings, or committee meetings
For information on time, places, and general program content, consult C&RL News, American Libraries, and the official conference programs and schedules. For additional information, contact the ACRL office.

To attend preconferences
For information about time, place, and preconference theme, check C&RL News and American Libraries. For additional information and registration materials, write to the ACRL office.

To take a continuing education course
To receive a course brochure, write to the ACRL office. To register, use information published in C&RL News or in the course brochure.

To establish a local chapter of ACRL
Check the procedures listed in “Guidelines for ACRL Chapters” (available from the ACRL office). Send a petition with the signatures of at least 25 ACRL members to the ACRL office for approval by the Board of Directors.

To request a speaker in the Chapter Speakers program
Write Alia Al-Taqi at the ACRL office and specify your date and topic. Eight chapters qualify each year for a free visit from ACRL officers or the ACRL Executive Director.
To serve on ACRL’s committees or to participate in ACRL’s sections and discussion groups

Familiarize yourself with the work of the unit—check the ALA Handbook of Organization for the unit’s statement of responsibility, read about the work of the unit as reported in C&RL News and American Libraries, attend the meetings of the unit during ALA conferences. Submit a completed ACRL committee volunteer form (published in the October issue of C&RL News and available at ALA conferences). Communicate your interest to the ACRL Appointments and Nominations Committee, to any of the ACRL officers, to the chair of an ACRL unit whose work interests you, or to the ACRL office.

To be a candidate for an ACRL office

Write to the ACRL Appointments and Nominations Committee or to an ACRL section nominating committee. Submit a petition to have your name added to the list of candidates.

To nominate someone for an award or to apply for a grant or fellowship

Write or call Mary Ellen Davis at the ACRL office for information or nomination forms for the Academic/Research Librarian of the Year Award, Oberly Award, Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship, Samuel Lazerow Fellowship, the Miriam Dudley BI Librarian of the Year Award, the RBMS Exhibition Catalogue Award, or the Martinus Nijhoff International West European Specialist Study Grant.

To provide suggestions for new projects, services, courses, and policies

Write to the ACRL office, to any of the ACRL officers, or to the chair of a unit whose work relates to the matter. Respond to requests published in C&RL News for suggestions from the membership. Attend open hearings scheduled at ALA conferences. Be in touch with the ACRL Planning Committee (Carolyn Dusenbury, chair).

To receive information, assistance, or advice on professional problems
