KENNETH G. PETERSON, associate librarian at the University of Virginia, has accepted an appointment as dean of library affairs at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale. He is to assume the position March 1. In his new job, Peterson will direct SIU-C’s Morris Library, one of the nation’s largest research libraries with holdings that exceed 1.8 million volumes. He will replace Ralph McCoy, library dean for the past twenty years.

Peterson, a native of Brooklyn, New York, has been at the University of Virginia Library since 1968. He has administered its budget ($3.5 million), its 200-person staff, business services, and physical facilities. Before going to Virginia, Peterson was head librarian at Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary, and for thirteen years before that was a Congregational minister in Ohio and California.

Peterson has a bachelor’s degree from Drew University, master’s degrees from Yale University and the University of California, and a Ph.D. in librarianship from the University of California. He is the author of a 205-page history of the University of California Library—published by the UC Press from his dissertation—as well as works on bibliography and librarianship for theological trainees.

He is editor and chairman of the ACRL publications in librarianship board and is a board member of the Southeastern Library Association and the Virginia Library Association.

When contacted by the editors of C&RL News, Mr. Peterson stated that he hopes to uphold and build upon the strong library developed at Carbondale under the leadership of Dean McCoy. He will be involved with library building expansion plans in the immediate future and hopes to maintain close relations with the library staff.

THOMAS A. ORLANDO has been appointed special collections librarian of the Chicago Public Library. “His appointment as the Library’s first trained antiquarian indicates the importance the Chicago Public Library places on its growing collections of rare books and other valuable literary materials,” said Chief Librarian David L. Reich in announcing Mr. Orlando’s appointment. “As a classics scholar as well as a librarian, Mr. Orlando is well prepared to give the Library’s many gifts the informed care that donors have a right to expect.”

Mr. Orlando was awarded the bachelor of arts degree with distinction by the University of Virginia in 1971 and earned a master of arts degree in Latin there two years later. He received the master of arts degree in librarianship from the University of Chicago in 1975. He also attended the Intercollegiate Center for Classical Studies in Rome in 1969-70. His languages are Latin, ancient Greek, and French.

Mr. Orlando’s experience includes work as the assistant to the curator of the Rare Book Department of the Alderman Library, University of Virginia (Sept. 1973-Sept. 1974), as an assistant in the Main Reading Room at the Newberry Library (Sept. 1974-Oct. 1975), and as a part-time assistant in humanities reference at the Joseph Regenstein Library, University of Chicago (Jan.-Oct., 1975).

He taught Latin and English while in Virginia, has published in the antiquarian field, and is known in rare book circles for his work. He is a member of the Special Libraries Association.

NOTICE

Respondents to advertisers offering faculty "rank" and "status" are advised that these terms are ambiguous and should inquire as to benefits involved.

All advertisements submitted by institutions offering positions must include a salary range. The range should provide the applicant with an indication of the salary the institution is willing to provide for the position offered.

All advertisements for the Positions Wanted and the Positions Open classifications will be edited to exclude direct or indirect references to race, creed, color, age, and sex as conditions of employment.

Classified advertising orders and copy, and cancellations, should be addressed to the Advertising Department, 50 East Huron Street, Chicago 60611, and should reach that office before the second of the month preceding publication of issue desired. Copy received after that time may be held for the next issue.

Telephone orders for classified advertising, while not encouraged because of the increased risk of copy error, will be accepted. Calls should be directed to Leona Swiek at (312) 944-6780. A confirming order should be mailed to the Advertising Department as soon as possible following the call, along with typewritten copy to be used in proofreading the ad.

Rate for classified advertising is $1.30 per printed line.
